

Opening hours and Feeding times

Feeding times

Our cats are fed two to three times daily; every one of those feedings is moderated and can be watched. The keeper gives you insights into the lives and behaviors of the small tigers; all the while you can watch them climb across the thin branches to reach their food, or jumping up high to catch it midair.

To ensure that our cats stay fit and wild, the feeding times are different every day so they don't get into a set rhythm. You can check the info box at the bottom of this page for the times of the next few days. If you are planning a group visit, specific times can be arranged prior.
